Independent Auditor's Report

To the Board of Directors of Tibet House, Inc.
(a Not-for-Profit Corporation)

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Tibet House Inc. (a Not-for-Profit Corporation) which comprise the Statement of Financial Position as of December 31, 2024, and the related statements of activities, functional expenses and cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Tibet House Inc. (a Not-for-Profit Corporation) as of December 31, 2024, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of Tibet House Inc. (a Not-for-Profit Corporation) and to meet our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audit. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about Tibet House Inc. (a Not-for-Profit Corporation)'s ability to continue as a going concern within one year after the date that the financial statements are available to be issued.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgement made by a reasonable user based on the financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of Tibet House Inc. (a Not-for-Profit Corporation)'s internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the financial statements.
- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about Tibet House Inc. (a Not-for-Profit Corporation)'s ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings, and certain internal control related matters that we identified during the audit.

Report on Summarized Comparative Information

We have previously audited Tibet House Inc. (a Not-for-Profit Corporation)'s 2023 financial statements, and we expressed an unmodified audit opinion on those audited financial statements in our report dated October 23, 2025. In our opinion, the summarized comparative information presented herein as of and for the year ended December 31, 2023, is consistent, in all material respects, with the audited financial statements from which it has been derived.

Note 1 - Nature of Activities and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Nature of Activities

Tibet House, Inc. (a Not-for-Profit Corporation) (the Organization) is a 501(c)(3) organization established to promote and preserve Tibetan culture by serving as both a cultural center in New York City and a global resource for those interested in Tibetan civilization. The hidden heart of Asia, Tibet has served, during the last thousand years of the many imperial wars, as the safe treasury of Asia's most sophisticated spiritual arts and sciences. Now, its precious Buddhist civilization of wisdom, compassion, peace and harmony is under a real threat of imminent extinction.

Our New York City center comprises 7,000 square feet including gallery space, Tibetan Buddhist shrine, photographic archives, a lending library of over 1,000 volumes, and staff offices. In keeping with our mission as a cultural embassy, Tibet House US develops and presents innovative educational and cultural programs for the general public. The Cultural Center's activities include exhibits, print publications and media productions. It serves as a central meeting place for the local Tibetan community to hold programs and events. We reach out to the world through our website, www.tibethouse.org, traveling exhibitions and unique trips to Buddhist sites in Asia. Our onsite and online gift shop and bookstore offer books and other items related to Tibetan culture and Buddhist practice.

Tibet House US also operates the extraordinary Menla Mountain Retreat and Conference Center in the heart of the Catskill mountains, in Phoenicia, New York. "Menla" means "Medicine Buddha," and the Center is being developed into a major transmitter of Tibetan Buddhist healing arts and sciences, Tibetan Medicine being one of the most precious offerings of the Tibetan culture to a world filled with suffering beings.

The Organization was incorporated in the State of New York in 1987.

Basis of Accounting

The financial statements have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP").

Financial Statement Presentation

The Organization reports information regarding its financial position and activities according to two classes of net assets: without donor restrictions and donor restricted net assets.

Net assets without donor restrictions: Net assets that are not subject to donor-imposed restrictions and may be expended for any purpose in performing the primary objectives of the Organization. These net assets may be used at the discretion of the Organization's management and the board of directors. Donor restricted contributions that are expended for their restricted purpose in the same reporting period as received may be recorded as without donor restrictions.

Net assets with donor restrictions: Net assets subject to stipulations imposed by donors and grantors. Some donor restrictions are temporary in nature; those restrictions will be met by actions of the Organization or by the passage of time. Other donor restrictions are perpetual in nature, where by the donor has stipulated the funds be maintained in perpetuity.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash

Cash consists of demand deposit accounts held at major financial institutions and may at times exceed the insurable amount of $250,000. Management believes it mitigates its risk by investing in a major financial institution and in funds that are currently U.S. federal government insured. All highly liquid investments with an initial maturity date of three months or less on the date of acquisitions are classified as cash.

Cash Equivalents

For purposes of the statement of cash flows, the Organization considers all highly liquid investments purchased with original maturities of three months or less when purchased to be cash equivalents.

Revenue Recognition

Contribution Revenue

Contribution revenue is recognized when the donor makes a promise to give to the Organization that is in substance, unconditional. Contributions that are restricted by the donor are reported as increases in net assets without donor restrictions if the restriction expires in the same reporting period in which the Contribution revenue is recognized. All other donor restricted contributions are reported as increases in donor restricted net assets. When a restriction expires donor restricted net assets are reclassified to net assets without donor restrictions.

Revenue from Contracts with Customers

The Organization engages in the following exchange transactions:

Sales of books, gifts, music and other inspirational items at New York City and Phoenicia, NY gift shops.

Conference and gathering space for event and/or for private rental.

Developing and presenting educational and cultural programs for the general public.

The Organization operates the Menla Mountain Retreat and Conference Center in the heart of the Catskill mountains, in Phoenicia, New York.

The Organization produces an annual fundraising concert and reception.

Revenue from the above activities is recognized when control of the promised goods or services is transferred to our customers, in an amount that reflects the consideration the Organization expects to be entitled to in exchange for those goods or services.

Accounts Receivable

Accounts receivable are stated at amounts expected to collect from outstanding balances. All amounts are due within one year. Accounts are monitored on an ongoing basis and significant effort is made to collect all amounts due to the Organization. Uncollected amounts are written off as credit losses. No interest is charged on past due accounts. Management estimates an allowance for credit losses based on current and forecast economic conditions, historical trends, and current and past experience with their customer base. Management determined that no allowance was necessary as of December 31, 2024.

Income Taxes

The Organization is exempt from federal income taxes under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. Therefore, no provision for income taxes has been provided for in the accompanying financial statements.

Promises to Give

Unconditional promises to give are recognized in the period received both as revenues or gains and as assets, decreases of liabilities, or expenses, depending on the form of benefits received. Conditional promises to give are recognized only when the conditions on which they depend are substantially met and the promises become unconditional.

Art Collection

The Organization collects diverse examples of Tibetan sacred, fine, and folk arts, with the hope to ultimately repatriate them to a National Museum in a culturally free Tibet. To this end, the Repatriation Collection was started in 1992. This growing collection is comprised of 1,500 objects: tangkas, bronzes, ritual objects, and folk art. Generous collectors who are deeply concerned about the ultimate disposition of the cultural heritage of the Tibetan people have and continue to thoughtfully give representative examples of the vast and sophisticated repertoire of Tibetan arts.

The Organization has chosen not to capitalize the collection as allowed by GAAP as its collections meet the necessary criteria: they are added to collections that are held for public exhibition and education in furtherance of public service rather than financial gain; are protected, kept encumbered, cared for and preserved; and are subject to a policy that requires the proceeds from sales of collection items to be used to acquire other items for collections.

Functional Allocation of Expenses

The costs of providing various program and other activities have been summarized on a functional basis in the statement of activities. Certain expenses have been classified based on direct expenditures, other cost were allocated based on estimates made by management such as time spent, quantities of items consumed and the proportion of physical space used.

Inventory

Inventory is stated at the lower of cost or market using net realizable value based on the first-in, first-out basis. Inventory consists of books and gift shop items.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are recorded at cost or, if donated, the approximate fair value at the date of donation. Depreciation is provided on the straight line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets as follow:

Buildings and improvements	28 - 40 Years
Furniture and equipment	5 - 7 Years

Expenditures for maintenance and repairs are charged to operations as incurred. Significant renovations and replacements, which improve and extend the life of the assets, are capitalized.

It is the policy of management to capitalize items with a cost of $5,000 or more.

Advertising Costs

Advertising costs were $151,552 and are included in marketing and promotion on the statement of functional expenses. Advertising costs are expensed in the year incurred.

Gifts In-Kind - Services

Unpaid volunteers contribute their time to the Organization. The value of that time is not included in these statements as those services did not meet the requirements of GAAP for recognition and no cash was expended for those services.

Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures

Carrying values of financial instruments, including cash, accounts receivable, due from payment processor and accounts payable, approximated their fair values due to the short term nature of these financial instruments. There were no changes in methods or assumptions during the year ending December 31, 2024.

Subsequent Events

In preparing these financial statements, the Organization has evaluated subsequent events and transactions for potential recognition or disclosure in the financial statements through July 14, 2026 the date the financial statements were available to be issued. Management concluded that no subsequent events have occurred that would require recognition or disclosure in the financial statements.
